Brunch at ?

At Busboys and Poets, of course! When we learned that Food & Wine had released a keyboard app — complete with a set of restaurant-inspired emojis like Momofuku's birthday cake and a Cronut — we wanted in on the fun. Using the common emoji set found on your phone, we created these puzzles that spell out well-known restaurants in the D.C. area, minus any the's and and's in their names. How many can you guess? Answers are below to the right. HOLLEY SIMMONS (EXPRESS)

“Mice are mice.
Rats are rats.
These are two different animals. Mice do not grow into rats.”

D.C. DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS, during a live chat on Thursday on the problem of rats in the city. Residents asked questions online about infestations and regulations. One thing many were told: When it comes to rats, there's not much to be done to stop them.

Actors needed: Casting open for 'House of Cards'

Do you look like a regular working Joe? Or maybe you can rock a tuxedo. Perhaps you're more of an art gallery type. "House of Cards" is holding a casting call this weekend, and those types and more are sought for the political series. The open casting will take place Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Pip Moyer Recreation Center, 273 Hilltop Lane, Annapolis. (AP)

Stream of Prince concert raises nearly $35,000

Prince's "Rally 4 Peace" earlier this month, which was announced in response to the death of Freddie Gray while in police custody, has raised $34,646, The Baltimore Sun reported. The money went to fund Open Society Institute-Baltimore, a grant-making nonprofit. Tidal, Jay Z's paid music service, streamed the first 60 minutes of the 2½-hour concert. (EXPRESS)
